Ignite is a company specializing in innovative beverage ware aimed at delivering superior on-the-go beverage solutions for active people.

The success of the Keurig® Single Cup Brewing system has been driven by choice, quality and convenience – choice of high quality brand and beverage varieties alongside of brewer features and models at the cutting edge of technology providing delicious beverages at the touch of a button. - Convenient one-hand operation for active lifestyles
- Vacuum-insulated to keep beverages hot for 4 hours and cold for 12 hours
- Double wall stainless steel construction

With this new offering, Keurig® users can indulge in Keurig Brewed™ beverages both at home and on the go, simplifying beverage consumption for mobile consumers.

“The Keurig™ Stainless Steel Travel Mug with the Contigo® AUTOSEAL® technology coupled with Keurig’s extensive offering of Keurig Brewed™ beverages for the Keurig® Single Cup Brewing system further solidifies our commitment to innovation through delivering state-of-the-art products – be it brewers, beverages or accessories.” explained Dwight Brown, VP of At Home Marketing at Keurig, Incorporated. “Achieving a balance between industry leading technology and simplicity, the alliance between Keurig® and Ignite further affirms the Keurig® vision for a product offering focused on quality, choice and convenience to our consumers.”
